ANSWER 1: Israel, Pakistan and India have not signed the treaty. Israel does not publicly admit it has nuclear weapons, although the fact that it does is common knowledge. Iran has signed the treaty and does not have a nuclear weapons program.

ANSWER 2: Iran

ANSWER 3: Israel

ANSWER 4: False – neither have provided any evidence that Iran is attempting to obtain nuclear weapons.

ANSWER 5: United States

ANSWER 6: Attacking a country which hasn't attacked you. This is called a war of aggression, which "contains within itself the accumulated evil of the whole."

ANSWER 7: The United States, which bombed the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki during WWII, killing between 150,000–246,000 people within just the first 4 months, half within the first 24 hours.

How did you answer these questions?

How do you think many Americans would answer these questions?

In addition to sanctions, there have been targeted assassinations of Iranian nuclear scientists and a U.S. surveillance drone was discovered in violation of Iranian sovereignty and airspace.

Let's be clear, no matter what you think about the Iranian government; the real aggressor in the Middle East is Israel and the United States.

Now that you know, what will you do?

NO WAR! NO SANCTIONS!
NO INTERVENTION!
NO ASSASSINATIONS!
