

WHAT TEACHERS AND STUDENTS ARE SAYING AFTER THE "WE ARE NOT YOUR SOLDIERS" TOUR VISITED THEIR SCHOOL

A STUDENT IN SAN JOSE, CA

"I went to get lunch at school and right in front of the cafeteria were 15 military recruiters and prizes. After I saw what the war was really like, I went to the activities director and she said I can have an antiwar protest, bullhorns and banner. So I'm going to start up a club and prepare so I get as many kids as I can to resist."

A TEACHER FROM NY, NY

"After the World Can't Wait presentation, it was apparent that my students were affected. The next day one student showed me a poem he wrote about a young boy from the ghetto enlisting in the military and dying, another asked for a World Can't Wait T-shirt, and yet another, who had wanted to join the military, handed me a recommendation form for a vocational school."

A TEACHER IN CHICAGO, IL

"We Are Not Your Soldiers workshops have motivated poetry and creative writing exercises where our students express their feelings and concerns about military recruitment and the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. Knowing more about what is really going on empowers our students' abilities to make informed choices and valid arguments against U.S. military actions."

A TEACHER FROM COLUMBUS, OH

"If teachers are seeking to create discussion about American policy in Iraq and Afghanistan and challenge students to think about how schools should address military recruitment then I would recommend they consider inviting speakers from World Can't Wait."

BRING THE "WE ARE NOT YOUR SOLDIERS" TOUR
TO YOUR CLASSROOM THIS FALL

TO SCHEDULE THE TOUR, CALL 866.973.4463

OR E-MAIL: WEARENOTYOURSOLDIERS@WORLDcantwait.NET

WHAT TEACHERS AND STUDENTS ARE SAYING AFTER THE "WE ARE NOT YOUR SOLDIERS" TOUR VISITED THEIR SCHOOL

A STUDENT IN SAN JOSE, CA

"I went to get lunch at school and right in front of the cafeteria were 15 military recruiters and prizes. After I saw what the war was really like, I went to the activities director and she said I can have an antiwar protest, bullhorns and banner. So I'm going to start up a club and prepare so I get as many kids as I can to resist."

A TEACHER FROM NY, NY

"After the World Can't Wait presentation, it was apparent that my students were affected. The next day one student showed me a poem he wrote about a young boy from the ghetto enlisting in the military and dying, another asked for a World Can't Wait T-shirt, and yet another, who had wanted to join the military, handed me a recommendation form for a vocational school."

A TEACHER IN CHICAGO, IL

"We Are Not Your Soldiers workshops have motivated poetry and creative writing exercises where our students express their feelings and concerns about military recruitment and the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. Knowing more about what is really going on empowers our students' abilities to make informed choices and valid arguments against U.S. military actions."

A TEACHER FROM COLUMBUS, OH

"If teachers are seeking to create discussion about American policy in Iraq and Afghanistan and challenge students to think about how schools should address military recruitment then I would recommend they consider inviting speakers from World Can't Wait."

BRING THE "WE ARE NOT YOUR SOLDIERS" TOUR
TO YOUR CLASSROOM THIS FALL

TO SCHEDULE THE TOUR, CALL 866.973.4463

OR E-MAIL: WEARENOTYOURSOLDIERS@WORLDcantwait.NET