On 28 Jan 2006 Carol Fisher, a small, 53 year old woman, weakened by cancer and radiation treatments, was subjected to brutal and demeaning treatment by 3 Cleveland Heights police officers for posting a sign reproduced here in miniature. Acknowledging the first officer's orders, she agreed to remove the signs she had posted and made a move to do so. She then suffered the following:

- A policeman threw her against a building.
- A policeman threw her to the ground.
- A policeman forced her face into the pavement.
- As she complained, verbally, to bystanders a policeman told her "Shut up or I will kill you! I am sick of this anti-Bush shit!"
- A policeman, who Ms Fisher was given to understand was a supervisor of the other two, said "if you don't obey the law you will suffer the consequences."
- Later, in the hospital emergency room, when medical staff had her disrobe so that they might evaluate her injuries, the 3 Cleveland Heights policemen insisted on watching.

A policeman who brutalizes a citizen who presents no physical threat but does challenge his beliefs, or who threatens the life of a citizen for words that he finds odious, or who suborns such behavior does not represent the values of a civilized society. We will not accept such behavior.
